	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday
Language Arts	Students will explore similarities and differences among textual, dramatic, visual, or oral presentations. Students will use text evidence to explain how conflicts cause the characters to change or revise plans while moving toward resolution; and explain the influence of cultural, historical and social context on characters, setting, and plot development. Students will identify and explain how the author uses imagery, hyperbole, adages, or proverbs to shape meaning and tone.
Social Studies	Students will demonstrate an understanding of Westward expansion of the United States and its impact on the institution of slavery.
Math	Students will divide a one digit number by a two, three or four digit number using strategies based on place value, properties of operations, and/or the relationship between multiplication and division. Students will solve multi-step problems using PEMDAS. They will represent the problem using unknown numbers and quantities. Students will create and/or identify a number or shape pattern that follows a given rule and predict what shape or number will come later in the sequence.
Science	Students will create and use models of the Solar System to find the location and order of planets as they orbit the sun. Students will also identify what the different planets are made of.
